Automated Documents Online for Nonprofit Legal Services
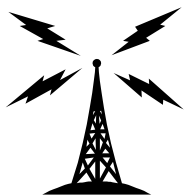

"National Public ADO"

http://npado.org

What is it?

A free national utility for serving interactive questionnaires and document templates that can be used by self-represented individuals, clients, and advocates, from a Web-connected browser, anywhere and anytime, building on industry-standard software (HotDocs from LexisNexis.)

Happenings at TIG 2006

- Tues 10:45-12:15 - Website Track: Integrating HotDocs in the Statewide Websites
- Tues 2:30-3:45 - Plenary session: Overview of NPADO, with State Examples
- Wed pm – Thurs: HotDocs training (pre-registration required)

For more information:

§ Attend our Tuesday sessions.

§ Track down someone already involved: Sheila Fisher, Camille Cameron, Hugh Calkins, Kate Bladow, Paul Agostinelli, Marc Lauritsen, …

§ Read our Frequently Asked Questions: http://npado.org/faq

§ Join the listserv for legal services HotDocs activists, which serves as the forum of record for the projects. See http://lists.lstech.org/wws/info/hotdocs

§ Check out the LStech HotDocs workgroup. See http://www.lstech.org/workgroups/hotdocs

§ Read our special issue on document assembly in legal services at http://www.ejustice.org/